

School Closures for Holidays - Please be Vigilant

Dear Watch Member,

With the school break just around the corner we would like to thank those that have reported, previously, to say that there are persons on school premises acting suspiciously. The prompt action of the public and the police has meant that, in those instances, damage to schools has either been prevented or limited.

We would like to remind residents that even though caretakers visit schools during school breaks on a regular basis, the absence of children and staff can make schools a target for theft, anti social behaviour and other incidents, both during the day and night time.

We would like to urge residents to continue be vigilant around schools. Whether you live in the area, or are simply passing a school please report suspicious activity to the North Wales Police control room by dialling 101.

If you live near a school consider helping and protecting your school by registering for 'Cocoon Watch'. Contact the OWL Cymru office at Mold Police Station for further information watch@owlcymru.org
